SOFT COAL MINERS TO FIGHT WAGE SLASHES

MINER ENVOYS SO INSTRUCTED BY CONFERENCE

RESENT ANY REDUCTION UNDER PRESENT JACKSONVILLE
AGREEMENT

3 RECOMMENDATIONS CONSID-ERED BY MINERS' COMMIT-TEE LAST NIGHT

By GERALD P. OVERTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1.—Representatives of the miners in the forthcoming joint wage conference with the bituminous coal operators will bear instructions to reject any proposal for a slash in wages, it was learned today.

A definite stand against any reduction in the basis of pay of $7.50 per day, under the present Jacksonville wage agreement, has been decided on by the wage scale committee and is to be given by Harry Fishwick, Springfield, Ill., either late today or tomorrow.

Three recommendations, all of which oppose any wage reduction, were considered by the committee last night in a session lasting far into the night. The recommendations:

1. Continuation of the terms of the Jacksonville wage agreement for a period of one or two years.

2. Demand for a wage increase of possibly five or ten per cent as a bargaining point to meet the stand of the operators for a wage cut.

3. Instructions to the committee, which will negotiate with the operators, to accept no reduction in wages but otherwise giving them a free hand to negotiate the best terms possible.

It appeared probable that the third recommendation would be the one placed before the convention for its approval. In this event the members of the miners' joint conference committee will meet the operators at Miami, Fla., on Feb. 14, bound to reject a wage reduction demand but free to seek renewal of the present scale or fight for an increase as they see fit.

Acceptance of the report of the wage scale committee by the convention, without serious change, is anticipated.

Says South is on Verge of an 'Agricultural Revolt'

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 1.—(UP)—The south is on the verge of an "agricultural revolution," Dr. G. W. Forster, agricultural economist of the state college, declared today on his return from Washington, where he helped direct a survey of farming conditions. "The outlook for the 1927 cotton crops is most discouraging, as well as the entire outlook for southern agriculture this year, and in the years immediately ahead," he said.

"The fact seems to be that the south is on the verge of an impending agricultural revolution, the effect of which on our social and economic conditions may be far-reaching."

POTATO DEALER CHARGED WITH BEING IN LAND SWINDLE

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Police here today are expecting arrest in Minneapolis of John Kelly, Grand Forks, N. D., potato dealer, charged with participating in a land swindle through which Mrs. Adelaide Talbott, Springfield, lost $44,000.

George Mahoney, 45, St. Louis, alleged "partner" of Kelly, was arrested late yesterday on charges made by Mrs. Talbott.

They are charged with exchanging her Springfield property for comparatively worthless western land which they represented as being of great value for mining purposes.

Today the 20 members of the crew were still aboard the vessel but reported in no danger. Coast guard was standing by.

The O'Boyle grounded while enroute from Norfolk, Va., to Boston.

INSTITUTIONS OF STATE OF MIN-

OVERCROWDED

STILLWATER PENITENTIARY IS

FLOWING

St. Paul, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Eight hundred feeble minded persons are now waiting for admittance to the already crowded institutions of Minnesota, according to Blanche Ladue and C. J. Swendsen, members of the board of control before the house appropriations committee late Monday.

Stillwater penitentiary is overflowing, the board members said, pointing to the 1,300 prisoners in an institution with a capacity of 1,050, and that there is a danger of rioting there because of overcrowding.

The board members were not criticizing the "Big Three" for its recommendations that the budget figures be cut more than $1,000,000 they said, but they wished to emphasize the need for expansion in state institutions before the state suffers serious consequences.

They also asked for a new wing in the Stillwater penitentiary for the criminally insane, two buildings for the insane at Willmar and more room in other institutions where inmates are crowded.

The appropriations committee agreed to meet late today to consider the budget figures concerning the state institutions.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS NOW IN CONTROL OF GERMAN DISARMAMENT

By HENRY WOOD
Geneva, Feb. 1.—The League of Nations today assumed control of German disarmament, as was provided for by the Versailles treaty, and league officials interpreted the event as having removed another obstacle from the road toward general disarmament.

The allied organization which has supervised German disarmament since the war withdrew yesterday in accordance with agreements previously reached between Germany and the other powers.

Paris, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Decision that Germany had fulfilled the disarmament obligations imposed upon her by the treaty of Versailles was reached today by the council of ambassadors, an allied organization which has represented the allies in negotiations with Germany since the war.

The agreement resulting from negotiations which have been in progress here for some weeks provided for the establishment of a frontier zone on the Polish border in which all fortresses except those designated in 1920 would be prohibited and destroyed, and embodied a formal engagement from Germany that no further fortresses would be constructed there.

Regarding the manufacture of war materials, Germany engaged to introduce into the reichstag a law which would meet the ambassadors' demands.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Millspaugh, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. A. W. Ide, St. Paul, and Mark Millspaugh, his son, also of Arcadia.

LILY LANGTRY DEFENDS MEMORY OF GLADSTONE

VIVID STAGE BEAUTY EMERGES
FROM OBSCURE RE-TIREMENT

"STRONGLY REPUDIATES SLAN-DEROUS ACCUSATION BY PETER WRIGHT"

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
United Press Staff Correspondent
London, Feb. 1.—Lily Langtry, the vivid stage beauty of the Victorian era whose colorful sun set years ago, emerged today from the obscure retirement of a placid old age to defend the character of the great statesman, William E. Gladstone.

At the resumption of the slander trial brought against Viscount Gladstone, aged son of the one-time liberal premier, by Captain Peter Wright, a telegram was presented from "The Jersey Lily" in which she said:

"I strongly repudiate the slanderous accusations by Peter Wright."

Wright is suing Viscount Gladstone because he called Wright a "coward, a liar and a fool" for saying in a book that the elder Gladstone was promiscuous about women. Wright had intimated that Gladstone "sought and possessed every sort of woman," and that his list of mistresses included Lily Langtry.

Interest in the trial, which was adjourned last Friday until today, was only increased in the interim and when court resumed, every inch of available space was packed. The crowd included many notable persons such as Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, the playwright, members of the king's bench, peers of the realm and leaders of London society.

Some of the older spectators could remember the Victorian age, in which they spent their youth, and were brought up in its prim atmosphere.

It was the implied attack by Wright on the moral standards of those outwardly impeccable times that caused such widespread interest in these days, when the doings of the present generation have been subjected to such widespread criticism.

When court resumed, counsel for Viscount Gladstone announced receipt of the telegram from Lady de Bathe (Lily Langtry) who is at Monte Carlo. He said the telegram was addressed to him personally and he could not read it except with Wright's permission, as a matter of grace.

Wright gave his assent. "I wish that it should be read," he said.

Wraiths out of the Victorian era passed through the courtroom as Wright was submitted to further cross-examination today. Parnell, the famous Irish leader and member of parliament, figured largely in Wright's testimony in company with Mrs. O'Shea, described by Wright as Parnell's mistress. At the conclusion of his cross-examination, Wright said he regretted the publication in his book, "Portraits and Criticisms," of the passage alleging promiscuity to Gladstone. But, Wright said, he was unable to withdraw the statement because he could not say a thing was not true when he really thought it was true.

Only 900 copies of the book have been sold, Wright said, and of those, 500 were sold before Viscount Gladstone wrote the letter calling Wright a liar, a coward, and a fool upon which the present libel action is founded.

Wright reiterated that he believed W. E. Gladstone had conspired in the illicit relations between Parnell and Mrs. O'Shea.

"This man, O'Shea," said Wright of the woman's husband, "was all the time exploiting his wife and trying to get posts as an undersecretary or something else."

Viscount Gladstone's counsel insisted that it was pure assumption flagrantly contradicting letters which had been produced in court. One of the letters was mentioned specifically, whereupon Wright said:

"I now think O'Shea was a dirtier swine than I thought before."

The letter merely was handed to the court, and was not read, although it was stated that it began, "My dear-

REBEL AGAINST FACULTY CONTROLLED COLLEGE PAPER

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Led by Anton H. Jensen, young English instructor, twenty-six students of the University of Nebraska today announced a "rebellion" against faculty controlled college newspapers.

A new paper appeared on the campus with editorials charging the "Daily Nebraskan," established student publication, was merely the "official mouth organ" of the faculty.

Jensen engaged in a controversy recently with former Chancellor Samuel Avery, resigned, over alleged refusal of university authorities to allow speakers opposing military training to appear on the campus.

FLOOD VICTIMS FOUND ON THE HOUSE-TOPS AND IN TREES

Cotton Plant, Ark., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Volunteer workers set out in hastily-built boats at daybreak today to rescue dozens of persons still marooned on house roofs and in tree tops as a result of yesterday's flood.

Tens of thousands of acres of rich land were overflowed when a levee on the Little Red river gave way and flooded parts of Monroe, Wood-ruff and Prairie counties. More than 500 refugees are being cared for here and many others are homeless. Homes that have not been washed away were flooded. Winter crops were ruined and cattle drowned by the thousands.

Harrisburg, Ill., Feb. 1.—Danger of floods from the Ohio river diminished today as the crest was reached or approached at most points and attention turned to the Wabash river, a tributary, which was still reported rising.

Continued rise in the Wabash will send the river into its old channel below Shawneetown and flood parts of five counties, according to river men. Water has already collected in ponds along the old bed.

At Mt. Carmel, the ferry has discontinued operations due to floods at landing places. Houses in the lowlands were surrounded by water and highways leading to Princeton were flooded. Most residents of the lowlands are remaining in their homes, hopeful of improved conditions today.

The judge ruled that Viscount Gladstone's letter to the Bath club, of which both he and Wright were members, from which Gladstone said that one or the other would have to withdraw, was written on a privileged occasion, but that the question of whether it was written maliciously would be left to the jury. The Bath club is one of the most exclusive in the world.

The Prince of Wales is a member. Wright was compelled to withdraw from the club.

ADMINISTRATION WILL PROTECT ALL AMERICANS

U. S. BLUEJACKET AND MARINE FORCE FOR EMERGENCY
SHORE DUTY

AMERICANS ARE SUFFERING FROM GENERAL ANTI-FOR-EIGN MOVEMENT

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 1.—Chinese protests against massing of foreign warships and troops off Shanghai fell on deaf ears today. The administration, it was known, is as determined as ever to afford necessary protection to Americans there.

The administration thinks the protests are aimed chiefly at foreign governments which have already landed troops at various points rather than at the United States which is holding troops aboard ships for use only after local authorities lose control of the situation.

No official here would comment directly on Great Britain's dispatch of regular army troops and tanks to China, in contrast to the U. S. blue-jacket and marine force for emergency shore duty. But it was considered significant that Foreign Minister Koo of the Peking government named Great Britain in his protest without mentioning the United States.

Apart from the critical statement of Chinese Minister Sze here, the administration has no evidence that anti-American sentiment in China has been stimulated by the presence of an American armada of 56 war vessels in or near Chinese waters.

While Americans are suffering from the general anti-foreign movement, according to the official reports, that movement is aimed primarily against other foreigners. In all the anti-foreign riots, no Americans have been knowingly attacked except in the isolated Foochow incident ten days ago. Chinese attacked American Consul Butterick at Hankow under the impression he was British.

Evacuation of Americans from isolated ports, and the advice to missionaries of the interior to concentrate at such cities as Shanghai where they can be protected, is explained as a precautionary measure.

BRITISH SAY SITUATION TURNING TO PEACE

London, Feb. 1.—British authorities said today that the situation at Shanghai had taken a sharp turn toward peace. They expected that Counsellor O'Malley, representing Britain at Hankow, and Eugene Chen, Cantonese nationalist foreign secretary, soon would reach an agreement on a basis of settlement for the entire Anglo-Chinese problem.

Beyond generalities, officials were reticent for fear of embarrassing the negotiations now in progress between O'Malley and Chen at Hankow, where informal conversations would create a basis for formal discussions later. The British have explained the maximum limit to which they would be willing to go in revising their status in China and the Cantonese have laid down the minimum concessions they would accept.

The British are willing to make practical revisions in the status of each of their concessions in China in accordance with the varying local circumstances. The nature of the concessions was indicated by the British proposal for adjustment at Hankow. At that place the general layout along the north bank of the Yangtze, reading down stream, is first the Chinese city, then the British, former Russian, French, former German, and the Japanese concessions.

Russia and Germany no longer enjoy the concession privileges that were theirs before the war. With regard to the French and Japanese who still possess full concession rights, the British propose to amalgamate the British and the former German and Russian concessions under a mixed government in which

PHILIPPINE REBELS ARE IN FULL RETREAT

PURSUED BY CONSTABULARY OF
THE ISLANDS TO-DAY

REBELS ARE BELIEVED TO BE LED BY THE PRINCESS
TARHATA

By W. R. KUHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Jolo, P. I., Feb. 1.—Pursued by the Philippine constabulary, a battle-scarred band of defeated rebels was in retreat today, believed to be led by the American-educated Princess Tarhata, known as "Moroland's only flapper."

Tarhata, fourth wife of Tahlil, rebel agitator and tribal leader, left the Philippines in her native clothes several years ago. She came back from America, her hair bobbed, her stockings rolled and her cheeks rouged, to become an under-cover rebel leader.

Incited by Tarhata and her husband, the band of rebels, 250 strong, took up the fight against the constabulary because of alleged injustices, chief of which were high taxes.

The constabulary won, demolishing all the rebel strongholds, killing 35 natives and routing the rest of the band. Today the remnants of the rebels, tattered and bleeding, were in retreat.

During the fighting, Princess Tarhata passed back and forth to the spot in which the rebels were entrenched. Fear of harming her and thereby rousing the whole Moro country caused the constabulary to delay the attack.

When it was learned that she had disappeared the constabulary soon quelled the uprising and started out in pursuit of the survivors. It was believed that Tarhata has joined Tahlil in an attempt to lead the native warriors to safety.

The Chinese would have a majority and which itself would control the police.

Explaining Britain's willingness to accept Chinese control in this instance, the United Press was informed that it was inevitable that sooner or later the Chinese government would be entrusted with control of concessions and protection of foreigners. The responsibility, the British believe, would have the effect of making the Chinese more conservative.

Last night the foreign office had not received the Peking government's protest against the dispatch to and landing of troops at Shanghai, but no one in Whitehall was excited. It was hoped that the Peking government merely was registering a bit of nationalist spirit on the international screen so that Peking would appear equally as patriotic as the Cantonese.

SEEK TO PRESERVE STATUS QUO IN CHINA

Shanghai, Feb. 1.—Military authorities of northern China today were making every effort to preserve peace and the status quo pending the outcome of the negotiations now in progress at Hankow between Counsellor O'Malley, representing Great Britain, and Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister.

The advent of the Chinese new year, always attended by widespread celebration, has brought complication in the face of the order of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, northern warlord, prohibiting all public meetings in the interests of peace. Hundreds of natives have insisted upon celebrating the new year in usual fashion with display of fireworks and parades.

In Chungking, far in the interior of China, General Yang Sen has

SEEKS TO BRING McNARY-HAUGEN BILL TO A VOTE

AIMS ADOPTION OF AGREEMENT TO START CONSIDERATION OF MEASURE

WISHES ALSO TO ASSURE VOTE
ON PRICE STABILIZATION
BILL WITHIN 10 DAYS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Holding the upper hand in a difficult parliamentary situation, the senate farm bloc planned today to force adoption of an agreement to start consideration of the McNary-Haugen price stabilization bill tomorrow and assure a vote within ten days.

The farm bloc has its opponents where they want them and both sides know it.

With less than five weeks left of the session, the bloc is strong enough to kill any bill which blocks the path of farm relief. Consequently, opponents now desire to refrain from stirring up trouble for their own pet measures. They are willing now to give the bloc about anything it desires in the matter of early consideration or fixing a time to vote.

At the moment bloc is using the McFadden banking bill as the wedge. For two hours yesterday a mild filibuster was undertaken just to show the opposition what can be done if trouble comes and as a result the Pepper motion to consider the banking bill Thursday went over until this afternoon.

After this display of strength, the banking bloc, although opposed to the farm bill, quietly informed the farm bloc that it would agree to consideration of the farm bill beginning tomorrow if the Pepper motion can be adopted. The agreement is expected to be worked out today.

As for the farm bill itself, its fate appears to be in doubt. There is considerable speculation as to what southern senators will do on the measure and they hold a balance of power. The southerners are saying nothing until they see what amendments are adopted to handle the cotton situation.

Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, announced he would press his amendment to treat cotton under an insurance plan, rather than under the equalization fee system which is provided for wheat, corn and hogs. Harrison's plan, the same as that of Rep. Bledsoe, democrat, Mississippi, in the house, would enable cotton co-operative associations to guarantee a full spot price for cotton to the farmers at the time of delivery, less carrying charges. For the insurance against price decline, the government would fix a rate of $1 per bale.

He returned here saying he stood squarely in his Toledo speech and refused to add to it or qualify it in any way.

"There is nothing more to be said on prohibition, nullification and lawlessness, or any other allied topic," he said. "The Toledo speech speaks for itself."

Harrisburg, Ill., Feb. 1.—Danger of floods from the Ohio river diminished today as the crest was reached or approached at most points and attention turned to the Wabash river, a tributary, which was still reported rising.

Continued rise in the Wabash will send the river into its old channel below Shawneetown and flood parts of five counties, according to river men. Water has already collected in ponds along the old bed.

At Mt. Carmel, the ferry has discontinued operations due to floods at landing places. Houses in the lowlands were surrounded by water and highways leading to Princeton were flooded. Most residents of the bottomlands are remaining in their homes, hopeful of improved conditions today.

ADMINISTRATION WILL PROTECT ALL AMERICANS

U. S. BLUEJACKET AND MARINE FORCE FOR EMERGENCY SHORE DUTY

AMERICANS ARE SUFFERING FROM GENERAL ANTI-FOREIGN MOVEMENT

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 1.—Chinese protests against massing of foreign warships and troops off Shanghai fell on deaf ears today. The administration, it was known, is as determined as ever to afford necessary protection to Americans there.

The administration thinks the protests are aimed chiefly at foreign governments which have already landed troops at various points rather than at the United States which is holding troops aboard ships for use only after local authorities lose control of the situation.

No official here would comment directly on Great Britain's dispatch of regular army troops and tanks to China, in contrast to the U. S. blue-jacket and marine force for emergency shore duty. But it was considered significant that Foreign Minister Koo of the Peking government named Great Britain in his protest without mentioning the United States.

Apart from the critical statement of Chinese Minister Sze here, the administration has no evidence that anti-American sentiment in China has been stimulated by the presence of an American armada of 56 war vessels in or near Chinese waters.

While Americans are suffering from the general anti-foreign movement, according to the official reports, that movement is aimed primarily against other foreigners. In all the anti-foreign riots, no Americans have been knowingly attacked except in the isolated Foochow incident ten days ago. Chinese attacked American Consul Butterick at Hankow under the impression he was British.

Evacuation of Americans from isolated ports, and the advice to missionaries of the interior to concentrate at such cities as Shanghai where they can be protected, is explained as a precautionary measure.

BRITISH SAY SITUATION TURNING TO PEACE

London, Feb. 1.—British authorities said today that the situation at Shanghai had taken a sharp turn toward peace. They expected that Counsellor O'Malley, representing Britain at Hankow, and Eugene Chen, Cantonese nationalist foreign secretary, soon would reach an agreement on a basis of settlement for the entire Anglo-Chinese problem.

Beyond generalities, officials were reticent for fear of embarrassing the negotiations now in progress between O'Malley and Chen at Hankow, where informal conversations would create a basis for formal discussions later. The British have explained the maximum limit to which they would be willing to go in revising their status in China and the Cantonese have laid down the minimum concessions they would accept.

The British are willing to make practical revisions in the status of each of their concessions in China in accordance with the varying local circumstances. The nature of the concessions was indicated by the British proposal for adjustment at Hankow. At that place the general layout along the north bank of the Yangtze, reading down stream, is first the Chinese city, then the British, former Russian, French, former German, and the Japanese concessions.

Russia and Germany no longer enjoy the concession privileges that were theirs before the war. With regard to the French and Japanese who still possess full concession rights, the British propose to amalgamate the British and the former German and Russian concessions under a mixed government in which

PURSUED BY CONSTABULARY OF THE ISLANDS TO-DAY

REBELS ARE BELIEVED TO BE LED BY THE PRINCESS TARHATA

By W. R. KUHN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Jolo, P. I., Feb. 1.—Pursued by the Philippine constabulary, a battle scarred band of defeated rebels was in retreat today, believed to be led by the American-educated Princess Tarhata, known as "Moroland's only flapper."

Tarhata, fourth wife of Tahir, rebel agitator and tribal leader, left the Philippines in her native clothes several years ago. She came back from America, her hair bobbed, her stockings rolled and her cheeks rouged, to become an under-cover rebel leader.

Incited by Tarhata and her husband, the band of rebels, 250 strong, took up the fight against the constabulary because of alleged injustices, chief of which were high taxes.

The constabulary won, demolishing all the rebel strongholds, killing 35 natives and routing the rest of the band. Today the remnants of the rebels, tattered and bleeding, were in retreat.

During the fighting, Princess Tarhata passed back and forth to the spot in which the rebels were entrenched. Fear of harming her and thereby rousing the whole Moro country caused the constabulary to delay the attack.

When it was learned that she had disappeared the constabulary soon quelled the uprising and started out in pursuit of the survivors. It was believed that Tarhata has joined Tahir in an attempt to lead the native warriors to safety.

the Chinese would have a majority and which itself would control the police.

Explaining Britain's willingness to accept Chinese control in this instance, the United Press was informed that it was inevitable that sooner or later the Chinese government would be entrusted with control of concessions and protection of foreigners. The responsibility, the British believe, would have the effect of making the Chinese more conservative.

Last night the foreign office had not received the Peking government's protest against the dispatch to and landing of troops at Shanghai, but no one in Whitehall was excited. It was hoped that the Peking government merely was registering a bit of nationalist spirit on the international screen so that Peking would appear equally as patriotic as the Cantonese.

SEEK TO PRESERVE STATUS QUO IN CHINA

Shanghai, Feb. 1.—Military authorities of northern China today were making every effort to preserve peace and the status quo pending the outcome of the negotiations now in progress at Hankow between Counsellor O'Malley, representing Great Britain, and Eugene Chen, nationalist foreign minister.

The advent of the Chinese new year, always attended by widespread celebration, has brought complication in the face of the order of Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang, northern warlord, prohibiting all public meetings in the interests of peace. Hundreds of natives have insisted upon celebrating the new year in usual fashion with display of fireworks and parades.

SEEKS TO BRING McNARY-HAUGEN BILL TO A VOTE

AIMS ADOPTION OF AGREEMENT TO START CONSIDERATION OF MEASURE

WISHES ALSO TO ASSURE VOTE ON PRICE STABILIZATION BILL WITHIN 10 DAYS

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Holding the upper hand in a difficult parliamentary situation, the senate farm bloc planned today to force adoption of an agreement to start consideration of the McNary-Haugen price stabilization bill tomorrow and assure a vote within ten days.

The farm bloc has its opponents where they want them and both sides know it.

With less than five weeks left of the session, the bloc is strong enough to kill any bill which blocks the path of farm relief. Consequently, opponents now desire to refrain from stirring up trouble for their own pet measures. They are willing now to give the bloc about anything it desires in the matter of early consideration or fixing a time to vote.

At the moment bloc is using the McFadden banking bill as the wedge. For two hours yesterday a mild filibuster was undertaken just to show the opposition what can be done if trouble comes and as a result the Pepper motion to consider the banking bill Thursday went over until this afternoon.

After this display of strength, the banking bloc, although opposed to the farm bill, quietly informed the farm bloc that it would agree to consideration of the farm bill beginning tomorrow if the Pepper motion can be adopted. The agreement is expected to be worked out today.

As for the farm bill itself, its fate appears to be in doubt. There is considerable speculation as to what southern senators will do on the measure and they hold a balance of power. The southerners are saying nothing until they see what amendments are adopted to handle the cotton situation.

Senator Pat Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, announced he would press his amendment to treat cotton under an insurance plan, rather than under the equalization fee system which is provided for wheat, corn and hogs. Harrison's plan, the same as that of Rep. Bledsoe, democrat, Mississippi, in the house, would enable cotton co-operative associations to guarantee a full spot price for cotton to the farmers at the time of delivery, less carrying charges. For the insurance against price decline, the government would fix a rate of $1 per bale.

EASTERN STAR

District School of Instruction O. E. S. Held Here Yesterday

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND

Greet Mrs. Nina Smith, Visiting Worthy Grand Matron and Her Deputy

The Eastern Star district school of instruction O. E. S. held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Masonic lodge rooms was a success from start to finish. Early in the day the guests from surrounding towns began to arrive by trains, cars and buses. Visitors were established in the parlors which were beautifully decorated with large baskets of flowers, spruce, and oriental rugs until the time set for the meeting. Extra seats were placed in every available space and when the meeting opened at 3 o'clock the largest crowd in the history of Alpha chapter greeted the visiting worthy grand matron, Mrs. Nina Smith of Bemidji and her deputy Mrs. Mae Mills of this city.

The meeting adjourned at about 6 o'clock and the time was spent socially until the banquet was ready.

The Brainerd Dispatch sent up complimentary papers, just off the press, many of which were sent to members of the order all over the United States.

The dining room was decorated with cedar boughs and the tables were decorated with red cantiles by the ladies of the Episcopal Guild who served the banquet at 6:30 o'clock. One hundred seventy-two people lined up in the parlors and marched into the dining room to the strains of sweet music played by the Tall Cedar orchestra who continued to play throughout the banquet.

The meeting was opened again at 7:30 o'clock with a still larger crowd present. The worthy grand matron gave a very interesting and instructive talk after which Mrs. Nellie Sharkey of Staples presented Mrs. Smith with a beautiful silver tray in behalf of the district and Mrs. Laura Moerk presented Mrs. Mills with a corsage bouquet in behalf of Alpha chapter. After the meeting adjourned a program was given, each number being obliged to give an encore. Refreshments and a social time followed until after midnight.

The roads were in good shape yesterday and many people from out of town were present though many of them did not register. Those who registered were: Mrs. P. A. Quackenbush of Euclid chapter, Duluth; Sadie Mayberry, Isla Nicholson, Annie Humble, from Evergreen chapter, Crosby; Mrs. B. L. Hollister, Mrs. 3. H. Osterhout, Mrs. H. Forster, Mrs. Lillian Sawyer, Mrs. Martha Erickson, Mrs. Blanche Murphy, Mrs. Jennie Henderson, Mrs. Cora Weisbech, Mrs. W. T. Mowen, Mrs. W. V. ## History in a Bag

A Budapest newspaper relates that a schoolboy at Navyyard, in the Hungarian territory transferred to Rumania, found on buying some fruit that the paper bag into which it had been placed was made of an old document belonging to the municipal archives and giving an official account of the Battle of Magenta. His curiosity being aroused he secured another bag, which was made from an original decree of the Emperor Joseph, dated 1780, permitting the Protestant inhabitants of Navyyard to bury their dead to funeral chants. Investigation showed that the new Hungarian authorities had been selling the old archives in bulk as waste paper. The Hungarian inhabitants of the town have now taken steps to save what ever can yet be recovered.—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

District School of Instruction O. E. S. Held Here
Yesterday

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND

Greet Mrs. Nina Smith, Visiting Worthy Grand Matron and Her Deputy

The Eastern Star district school of instruction O. E. S. held yesterday afternoon and evening in the Masonic lodge rooms was a success from start to finish. Early in the day the guests from surrounding towns began to arrive by trains, cars and buses. Visitors were established in the parlors which were beautifully decorated with large baskets of flowers, spruce, and oriental rugs until the time set for the meeting. Extra seats were placed in every available space and when the meeting opened at 3 o'clock the largest crowd in the history of Alpha chapter greeted the visiting worthy grand matron, Mrs. Nina Smith of Bemidji and her deputy Mrs. Mae Mills of this city.

The meeting adjourned at about 6 o'clock and the time was spent socially until the banquet was ready.

The Brainerd Dispatch sent up complimentary papers, just off the press, many of which were sent to members of the order all over the United States.

The dining room was decorated with cedar boughs and the tables were decorated with red candles by the ladies of the Episcopal Guild who served the banquet at 6:30 o'clock. One hundred seventy-two people lined up in the parlors and marched into the dining room to the strains of sweet music played by the Tall Cedar orchestra who continued to play throughout the banquet.

The meeting was opened again at 7:30 o'clock with a still larger crowd present. The worthy grand matron gave a very interesting and instructive talk after which Mrs. Nellie Sharkey of Staples presented Mrs. Smith with a beautiful silver tray in behalf of the district and Mrs. Laura Moerke presented Mrs. Mills with a corsage bouquet in behalf of Alpha chapter. After the meeting adjourned a program was given, each number being obliged to give an encore. Refreshments and a social time followed until after midnight.

The roads were in good shape yesterday and many people from out of town were present though many of them did not register. Those who registered were: Mrs. P. A. Quackenbush of Euclid chapter, Duluth; Sadie Mayberry, Isla Nicholson, Annie Humble, from Evergreen chapter, Crosby; Mrs. B. L. Hollister, Mrs. J. H. Osterhout, Mrs. H. Forster, Mrs. Lillian Sawyer, Mrs. Martha Erickson, Mrs. Blanche Murphy, Mrs. Jennie Henderson, Mrs. Cora Weisbech, Mrs. W. T. Mowen, Mrs. W. V. ## History in a Bag

A Budapest newspaper relates that a schoolboy at Navayard, in the Hungarian territory transferred to Rumania, found on buying some fruit that the paper bag into which it had been placed was made of an old document belonging to the municipal archives and giving an official account of the Battle of Magenta. His curiosity being aroused he secured another bag, which was made from an original decree of the Emperor Joseph, dated 1780, permitting the Protestant inhabitants of Navayard to bury their dead to funeral chants. Investigation showed that the new Hungarian authorities had been selling the old archives in bulk as waste paper. The Hungarian inhabitants of the town have now taken steps to save what ever can yet be recovered.—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

adopted a conciliatory attitude toward foreigners there who have remained at their posts, ready for instant flight, should the unrest disturbing the Yangtze valley result again in violence.

A mob of Yang Sen's soldiers attempted to board an American ship anchored on the Yangtze river, and was repulsed and the leaders captured. They were given a quick trial, their guilt was proved and 22 were executed.

News of the execution was given prominence in Shanghai and other cities where foreigners have sought protection. Crowds of Chinese gathered in public places where the report was displayed as a warning against similar attacks on foreign lives or property.

L. K. Kentwell, British associate editor of the China Courier, registered as an American publication, a supporter of the Cantonese cause in Shanghai, was put on trial yesterday on a technical charge and his case adjourned. Kentwell, with his Chinese editor, Francis Zia, were arrested last week and later were abducted by Chinese soldiers who subsequently turned them over to the British for trial.

Kentwell's arrest was understood to have been requested by Marshal Sun on the ground that he incited nationalist unrest in Shanghai. Kentwell told the court he had renounced his British citizenship, was now a full-fledged Chinese nationalist and demanded that his case be thrown out of court.

"You are pressing the thumb screws on us now," he shouted to the British judge, "but when we Chinese are in the ascendancy we will press you ten times as hard."

Kentwell recently was debarred from practice of law before the British bar.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The administration is concentrating its efforts on protection of Americans in China and has taken no new steps to negotiate with the warring factions there. President Coolidge told callers today.

William Jahnke and John Pruden, Hamm employees who were held up, forced into the bandit car and then thrown out some distance from the scene of the robbery have given police a good description of the yeggs and the machine they used in the haul.

It's "slack off that line for'd" and "ease your 'midship." Then—"half-speed" and "full" on the dial. A compass swings in the wheel-house and—"We're in the Navy Now" takes to sea.

Such was the scene which ushered Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, erstwhile prize fighter and manager, into Uncle Sam's great fighting force. Via the "U. S. S. Louise," masquerading as an army transport, Paramount launched its latest comedy under the title, "We're in the Navy Now," with Beery and Hatton starring opening at the Lyceum Wednesday for a three day run.

The two dumb doughboys of "Behind the Front" fame have now donned naval blue. While the "U. S. S. Louise" plied the waters off San Pedro, Beery and Hatton enacted the lavish rumor of the gob for the screen. Instead of "Sunny France" and the front line trenches as a locale, these inimitable funsters seafarers legged their way o'er the decks of a transport, "looking at the world through portholes."

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton in the Edward Sutherland Production "We're in the Navy Now" A Paramount Picture

Wallace Beery, Raymond Hatton're in Navy Now

It's "slack off that line for'd" and "ease your 'midship." Then—"half-speed" and "full" on the dial. A compass swings in the wheel-house and—"We're in the Navy Now" takes to sea.

Such was the scene which ushered Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, erstwhile prize fighter and manager, into Uncle Sam's great fighting force. Via the "U. S. S. Louise," masquerading as an army transport, Paramount launched its latest comedy under the title, "We're in the Navy Now," with Beery and Hatton starring opening at the Lyceum Wednesday for a three day run.

The two dumb doughboys of "Behind the Front" fame have now donned naval blue. While the "U. S. S. Louise" plied the waters off San Pedro, Beery and Hatton enacted the lavish rumor of the gob for the screen. Instead of "Sunny France" and the front line trenches as a locale, these inimitable funsters sea-logged their way o'er the decks of a transport, "looking at the world through portholes."

2 SUSPECTS ARE QUESTIONED BY ST. PAUL POLICE

St. Paul, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Two suspects were questioned by police here today for possible connection with the holdup Monday of the Hamm Brewing company's $9,000 payroll.

Officers searched the city all night for the automobile which the bandits used to ram the payroll car to the curb and which was said to have a broken bumper.

William Jahnke and John Pruden, Hamm employees who were held up, forced into the bandit car and then thrown out some distance from the scene of the robbery have given police a good description of the yeggs and the machine they used in the haul.

Treat Yourself to a MAYTAG "wash-hour"

PHONE the Maytag dealer. Have him send a Maytag to your home. There is no obligation nor expense. Then treat yourself to a Maytag "wash-hour."

See big tubfuls of clothes washed in 3 to 7 minutes. See a whole washing—50 pounds of clothes done in an hour.

See even collars, cuffs and wristbands washed spotlessly clean without hand-rubbing.

See how the water stays hot in the heat-retaining, cast-aluminum tub. See how the extension legs raise or lower the Maytag to suit your height.

See how the tub automatically drains and cleans itself in 30 seconds after the washing is done.

See how the famous Maytag wringer instantly adjusts itself to a handkerchief or a blanket and wrings both dry.

Try the Maytag—if it doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

THE BROWNING DIVORCE CASE

THE Browning divorce case has carried so many details of an unusual nature that the Brainerd Dispatch has seen fit to avoid printing some of the installments.

And now comes the Boston Traveler, in a front-page editorial, apologizing to its readers for reporting the Browning case, and promising that no more news of the sensational divorce hearing would appear in its columns.

The editorial, headed, "The Browning Case," read: "It has always been the policy of the Boston Traveler to print all the news. Acting under this policy it started to report, in what it felt to be the interest of its readers, the story of the so-called 'Peaches' Browning case. It felt that it served a public interest in exposing certain conditions that threatened the welfare of the community, and that such an exposure might serve as a warning."

"The revel of filth that has been indulged in by the contestants at law has passed beyond all limits of decency, and a further publication of the details the Traveler feels is a menace to the morals of the community."

"The Traveler wishes to apologize to its readers for embarking on a course that led to depths beyond the wildest stretch of the imagination. The editors feel that no self-respecting newspaper can continue to publish such details, and the further record of the marital difficulties of the Brownings will not appear in the columns of this newspaper."

It may be remarked that another Boston newspaper, the Christian Science Monitor, has published nothing on the Browning case.

In a general way, the Pilot, official Catholic organ for the archdiocese of Boston, severely criticized newspapers that give their readers intimate details of sensational divorce cases.

Under the title, "Salacious Details Not Wanted," the Pilot said that "to print the misdeeds and chronicle the errors of mankind is part of the newspaper's function, but to clothe depravity with the glamor of romance and lionize the unfortunate victims of marital disaster, as many of these stories do, is to make vice attractive and sin almost desirable."

The Pilot pointed to the "Clean Press Bill" which recently became a law in England, prohibiting publication of unsavory details of divorce proceedings, and advocated a similar bill for this country.

"Just at present the need of some such restriction upon the publication of lubricity in the daily press is being evidenced by the action of some of our dailies in giving the most intimate details of several particularly sordid divorce cases now on trial," the paper said.

As further mentioned by a New York magazine, if newspapers will not clean their columns of unbounded mention of divorce details, it is time to have the English act on such publication take effect in the United States.

REPORTING IN THE OLD DAYS

REPORTING in the old days drew on a vast reservoir of vivid language and we quote from the Brainerd Dispatch files of 25 years ago which referred to:

"The fiery demon was out in force last night and in its wake left ruin and devastation." And then followed the fire story.

And anon we read of our old county jail referred to as the "county bastle." It was when Ole Erickson was sheriff and another reference of the fertile reporter concerning the jail, alludes to it as "the Hotel de Ole Erickson."

Those were the good old days when nobody had a plain job, it was always spoken of as a position. If any one made a business trip, it was always a "flying trip," although airplanes had not been invented.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING

ONE of the nice things done gratuitously by the national magazine of the Elks which is read by close to a million people, counting members and their families, is to publish a page devoted to listing the Elks' homes throughout the jurisdiction which have accommodations for visiting brothers.

At present in Minnesota are listed St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Cloud, etc., and after the Brainerd home is publicly opened, it will also be placed in the column and will serve to draw to Brainerd an immense number of Elk tourists and summer resorters. This national advertising will be of inestimable benefit and it does not cost any home-owning lodge one cent.

GEORGE M. COOK, Director of Public Relations, Standard Oil Company, writes the Brainerd Dispatch as follows: "I want to thank you very much for the editorial in The Dispatch of December 13th on 'Aids Winter Motoring.' For some reason the copy of the paper was mislaid or miscarried and I did not see it until today and that is the reason you have not heard from me before this. Expressions of this character in newspapers like The Dispatch regarding the company's efforts to make motoring better and more enjoyable are highly appreciated by this company."

THE Brainerd Dispatch has received a letter from the manager of Sousa's band, asking for data concerning Brainerd, regarding seating capacity of the largest theater, high school or auditorium, which shows that the band has started to map out the tour for the season of 1927-1928, and may include Brainerd in its itinerary.

NOTHING in the world's journalism now compares with American newspapers for fine illustration, mechanically, artistically and in point of interesting selection, says the New York Editor and Publisher.

THE mail carrier is always resourceful. Harold Dorsey of Pillager has added rims to the wheels of his car and is said to negotiate heavy drifts most successfully.

THE recent speech of McAdoo has been likened to a rumble, in which the speaker seems not un mindful of the fact that next year a Democratic convention is due.

GUNNAR B. BJORNSSON, of the State Tax Commission, advocates abolishing the local assessor, and having a well paid county assessor substituted.

Virginia Still Rich in Colonial Mansions

Old Virginia homesteads in which were born and reared the makers of Virginia and the United States stand today, mute evidences of the simplicity and genteel dignity which surrounded those men and women pioneers.

Just as the cradle of America has often been said to have been at Jamestown, so the oldest mansions in Virginia are to be found there. And extending slowly, as did these early settlers over Virginia and the rest of the country, these palatial homes dotted the state. Naturally, this expanding movement followed the rivers, and so most of Virginia's colonial residences are to be found close by the banks of the York, James, the Potomac and the Rappahannock rivers.

Included among the several hundred colonial residences are scores whose histories pre-date Revolutionary days. Many of them are national shrines.

Monticello, Arlington, Mt. Vernon, Kenmore—symbols of Thomas Jefferson, the Custises and Lees, George Washington and the Lewises—all have become hallowed and have been dedicated to the nation. Four old places representing so many distinct types of architectural beauty, these colonial mansions would be famous for their beauty alone.

Brandon, Westover, Berkeley, Shirley, garden spots along the James, once housed the Harbisons, Byrds and Carters, all prominent in the early life of Virginia and the United States. Around Williamsburg are the homes of President Tyler and many others who helped make history, while few sections of Virginia cannot claim one or more of these palatial residences of colonial times.

In this advanced civilization which crowds homes almost one upon another, these picturesque, spacious mansions, free of gaudy ornaments and serene in their large settings, serve to recall the simple wholesome environment which made for the firm foundation of the United States.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Jan. 30, 1902

The law firm of Polk and Polk removed to their elegant and commodious new suite of office rooms over the Northern Pacific bank. This firm has built up a lucrative practice in the city and county, and they are now pleasantly and comfortably situated to handle the large volume of business.

The members of the Retail Clerks Protective association are very jubilant this afternoon over their success in getting the merchants of the city to close their respective places of business at 6:30 o'clock evenings commencing with February 1st and continuing for two months.

It will be a surprise to many in the city to learn that Judge W. H. Mantor has resigned as judge of municipal court of the city of Brainerd and the same has been accepted by Gov. S. R. Van Sant. The resignation was sent to the executive head some days ago but was not acted upon until this afternoon. The governor had no sooner accepted the resignation of Judge Mantor than he appointed Attorney T. C. Blewitt to succeed him on a strong petition signed by a large number of friends of the latter in the city.

Judge Mantor resigns his position as municipal judge at this time to go into partnership with Judge S. P. Alderman in the law business. Both gentlemen stand high in the profession and they will make a strong team.

The editors feel that no self-respecting newspaper can continue to publish such details, and the further record of the marital difficulties of the Brownings will not appear in the columns of this newspaper."

It may be remarked that another Boston newspaper, the Christian Science Monitor, has published nothing on the Browning case.

In a general way, the Pilot, official Catholic organ for the archdiocese of Boston, severely criticized newspapers that give their readers intimate details of sensational divorce cases.

Under the title, "Salacious Details Not Wanted," the Pilot said that "to print the misdeeds and chronicle the errors of mankind is part of the newspaper's function, but to clothe depravity with the glamor of romance and lionize the unfortunate victims of marital disaster, as many of these stories do, is to make vice attractive and sin almost desirable."

The Pilot pointed to the "Clean Press Bill" which recently became a law in England, prohibiting publication of unsavory details of divorce proceedings, and advocated a similar bill for this country.

"Just at present the need of some such restriction upon the publication of lubricity in the daily press is being evidenced by the action of some of our dailies in giving the most intimate details of several particularly sordid divorce cases now on trial," the paper said.

As further mentioned by a New York magazine, if newspapers will not clean their columns of unbounded mention of divorce details, it is time to have the English act on such publication take effect in the United States.

REPORTING IN THE OLD DAYS

REPORTING in the old days drew on a vast reservoir of vivid language and we quote from the Brainerd Dispatch files of 25 years ago which referred to:

"The fiery demon was out in force last night and in its wake left ruin and devastation." And then followed the fire story.

And anon we read of our old county jail referred to as the "county bastille." It was when Ole Erickson was sheriff and another reference of the fertile reporter concerning the jail, alludes to it as "the Hotel de Ole Erickson."

Those were the good old days when nobody had a plain job, it was always spoken of as a position. If any one made a business trip, it was always a "flying trip," although airplanes had not been invented.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING

ONE of the nice things done gratuitously by the national magazine of the Elks which is read by close to a million people, counting members and their families, is to publish a page devoted to listing the Elks' homes throughout the jurisdiction which have accommodations for visiting brothers.

At present in Minnesota are listed St. Paul, Minneapolis, St. Cloud, etc., and after the Brainerd home is publicly opened, it will also be placed in the column and will serve to draw to Brainerd an immense number of Elk tourists and summer resorters. This national advertising will be of inestimable benefit and it does not cost any home-owning lodge one cent.

GEORGE M. COOK, Director of Public Relations, Standard Oil Company, writes the Brainerd Dispatch as follows: "I want to thank you very much for the editorial in The Dispatch of December 13th on 'Aids Winter Motoring.' For some reason the copy of the paper was mislaid or misarranged and I did not see it until today and that is the reason you have not heard from me before this. Expressions of this character in newspapers like The Dispatch regarding the company's efforts to make motoring better and more enjoyable are highly appreciated by this company."

THE Brainerd Dispatch has received a letter from the manager of Sousa's band, asking for data concerning Brainerd, regarding seating capacity of the largest theater, high school or auditorium, which shows that the band has started to map out the tour for the season of 1927-1928, and may include Brainerd in its itinerary.

NOTHING in the world's journalism now compares with American newspapers for fine illustration, mechanically, artistically and in point of interesting selection, says the New York Editor and Publisher.

THE mail carrier is always resourceful. Harold Dorsey of Pillager has added rims to the wheels of his car and is said to negotiate heavy drifts most successfully.

THE recent speech of McAdoo has been likened to a rumble, in which the speaker seems not unmindful of the fact that next year a Democratic convention is due.

GUNNAR B. BJORNSSON, of the State Tax Commission, advocates abolishing the local assessor, and having a well paid county assessor substituted.

Virginia Still Rich in Colonial Mansions

Old Virginia homesteads in which were born and reared the makers of Virginia and the United States stand today, mute evidences of the simplicity and genteel dignity which surrounded those men and women pioneers.

Just as the cradle of America has often been said to have been at Jamestown, so the oldest mansions in Virginia are to be found there. And extending slowly, as did those early settlers over Virginia and the rest of the country, these palatial homes dotted the state. Naturally, this expanding movement followed the rivers, and so most of Virginia's colonial residences are to be found close by the banks of the York, James, the Potomac and the Rappahannock rivers.

Included among the several hundred colonial residences are scores whose histories pre-date Revolutionary days. Many of them are national shrines.

Monticello, Arlington, Mt. Vernon, Kenmore—symbols of Thomas Jefferson, the Custises and Lees, George Washington and the Lewises—all have become hallowed and have been dedicated to the nation. Four distinct types of architectural beauty, these colonial mansions would be famous for their beauty alone.

Brandon, Westover, Berkeley, Shirley, garden spots along the James, once housed the Harrisons, Byrds and Carters, all prominent in the early life of Virginia and the United States. Around Williamsburg are the homes of President Tyler and many others who helped make history, while few sections of Virginia cannot claim one or more of these palatial residences of colonial times.

In this advanced civilization which crowds homes almost one upon another, these picturesque, spacious mansions, free of gaudy ornaments and serene in their large settings, serve to recall the simple wholesome environment which made for the firm foundation of the United States.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Jan. 30, 1902

The law firm of Polk and Polk removed to their elegant and commodious new suite of office rooms over the Northern Pacific bank. This firm has built up a lucrative practice in the city and county, and they are now pleasantly and comfortably situated to handle the large volume of business.

The members of the Retail Clerks Protective association are very jubilant this afternoon over their success in getting the merchants of the city to close their respective places of business at 6:30 o'clock evenings commencing with February 1 and continuing for two months.

It will be a surprise to many in the city to learn that Judge W. H. Mantor has resigned as judge of municipal court of the city of Brainerd and the same has been accepted by Gov. S. R. Van Sant. The resignation was sent to the executive head some days ago but was not acted upon until this afternoon. The governor had no sooner accepted the resignation of Judge Mantor than he appointed Attorney T. C. Blewitt to succeed him on a strong petition signed by a large number of friends of the latter in the city.

Judge Mantor resigns his position as municipal judge at this time to go into partnership with Judge S. P. Alderman in the law business. Both gentlemen stand high in the profession.

Still Filling Space

By LIL BERTRAM
I'm getting awfully regular lately, am I not? And I promised myself I'd only write now and then. Oh, well!

I imagine they will be changin' seats pretty soon again. I don't know whether I want mine changed or not—I like the one I've got—it's in the back where you don't have to crane your neck to see what's goin' on and I'm quite fraternal with all the kids in that quarter of the room—however a change is always welcome. I'm against movin' if anything, I got a homelike disposition—never did care much about joinin' the navy and seeing the world thru a porthole. I'd join the navy in preference to the army, tho; I always was for riding as against walking—and then again the navy's uniforms are much classier than the soldier's outfits and more comfortable, too—more room in them.

You know, they's an awful shortage of stuff to write about this week; that is, there's subjects but they're all old gags—report-cards—honor roll etc. They tell me I shouldn't use this word etc. I guess they think I don't know what it means—but, not boastin' or anything, they would be surprised with some of the things I know. I am myself, sometimes. It's wonderful how much a young (boy, girl) can pick up if (he, she) gets into the wrong places at the right times.

As I said in the beginning, I'm here every week when you open the paper and it's getting monotonous. Besides I want to surprise you sometime so I guess I'll take a week or two off. I haven't told the editor about this yet but I guess he will be able to grasp my meaning when he reads this. I believe that my work is depreciating—now take this for instance, it just isn't up to standard, that's all. I gotta recuperate. Yours for sometime,

BERTIE.

Here's some nice music for while I'm away:

A Feahful Adventuauh

(In one act and one scene)
Floyd is found sitting in the assembly. Enter Elmer Erickson—hair disheveled and wet and ghostly pale.

Floyd (with great zest): Oh, theah, Elmer, deah boy, how romantic you appeah. Been playing drop the kerchief again?

(Elmer collapses into a seat and exhaustedly motions for silence.)
Elmer: Floyd, deah thing, I've just had the most thrilling adventure, don't you know, and I hardly recovered from the bally thing.

Floyd: how extraordinary, old thing, do tell.

Elmer: Well, old fellah, you know I was out promadin' in the hall, when all at once I saw a white marble post with a handle on the side of it. I turned the handle, you know, and all of a sudden I found water spurting into my face.

(Pauses—takes several deep breaths.)

Oh, deah, wheah was I—ah yes—in the water. Well, you know I was feahfully nonplussed naturally one would be, finding one's self in such a predicament—

Floyd: Dreadfully boahsome, I should imagine—eh, wot?

Elmer: Yes—ah wheah was I—ah yes—well, you know I had self-control and presence of mind enough to let go of the handle, you know—and what do you think happened?

Floyd: Cawn't imagine—do tell.

Elmer: Well, old flappah, the water stopped flowing.

Floyd: Aw?

Elmer: Really!

Curtain.

Miss Tornstrom: You'd think some of you people didn't understand plain English.

John Fisher: Well, I know I don't understand "Plane Geometry."

Miss Lohr

Miss Gladys Lohr, who has been teaching Geometry here for the last four years, resigned last week to be married—there was a general feeling of regret at her leaving, expressed in several instances by social festivities. The Epworth League of the Methodist church, together with her Sunday school class, entertained at a party in the church basement. After a very enjoyable evening, she was presented with a pair of silver candlesticks.

The teachers of the Washington school entertained at a tea last Tuesday, where she was given a silver gravy boat set as a token of their wishes for her future happiness. The whole school extends their good wishes.

SPORTS

Follow the Teams to Crosby

Support your girls' and second team by sending an aggregation of Brainerd boosters to Crosby Friday night.

The girls are lined up for the hardest fight of the season when they meet the Crosby-Ironton sextette on their own floor. The Blue and White promises speed and a battle to the end. Fans, follow them and give them your support.

The second team the same evening take on the second team at Crosby. The local boys have worked hard bucking up against the "blue suits" all season. They would appreciate rooters at the range city.

Round trip tickets may be secured for seventy-five cents from Mr. Gridley or Coach Beresford.

Brainerd 8, Wadena 17

Brainerd again met defeat at the hands of the Wadena aggregation, when they journeyed to that city last Friday evening. It was again a game of many breaks and good teamwork was out of the question, for it was only a matter of very few times that either team showed any light of executing plays to the proper advantage.

The game started out with both quints battling furiously and the Blue and White cagers were again the first to start the scoring. They, however, continued to do most of the scoring during the first half, which ended 5 to 1 in the locals' favor. During the second half, the local gave way and were unable to lead the Wadena five from scoring and the game ended with Wadena on the long end of the count. This game, however, did not seem to have much effect on the Blue and White five, which defeated the fast St. Cloud Cathedral team the following evening.

The line-ups:
Brainerd—Wise, rf; Fitzharris, lf; Guin, c; DeRoche, rg; Lowe, lg.
Wadena—Zozel, rf; Brownsey, lf; Young, c; McBride, rg; Zuelke, lg.
Substitutions:
Brainerd—Orth for Guin; Hautala for Orth; Barnes for DeRoche.
Wadena—Nutting for Brownsey.

Brainerd 16, St. Cloud Cathedral 11

The Blue and White basketball quint redeemed themselves Saturday night by defeating St. Cloud Cathedral, 16-11.

The game was played on even terms until the last quarter when the locals stepped out to obtain their lead and hold it throughout the remaining minutes of play. St. Cloud's team was one of high calibre, but was unable to penetrate the defense of the locals who were playing splendid ball.

As the game opened, St. Cloud got the tip-off and started down the floor, executing good team work but were stopped on the foul line by the local defense which had the do or die spirit. The game then saw-sawed back and forth and Brainerd was the first to start the scoring, with Guin coming through with a field goal. St. Cloud then evened the count and the two teams played on even terms throughout the half.

The local five then came back in the second half and played wonderful basketball by showing good teamwork that resulted in placing the Blue and White quint on the long end of the score.

A fairly good crowd witnessed the contest and were well pleased with the brand of ball played that night. Brainerd plays Motley next Friday and it is hoped that the local fans will turn out in full to boost their team along. May it be remembered that support is half of the victory.

The line-ups:

Brainerd—Orth, rf; Fitzharris, lf;

Guin, c; DeRoche, rg; Lowe, lg.

St. Cloud Cathedral—Lais, rf;

SEMPER PARATUS CLUB TO PRESENT FIRST PUBLIC PROGRAM ON SATURDAY, FEB. 19

Hucksprung, lf; Blussingham, c; Hallstrom, rg; Denne, lg.
Substitutions:
Brainerd—Wise for Orth, Orth for Fitzharris.
Cathedral—Lully for Blussingham, Kiernay for Denne.

B. H. S. Girls Defeat All-Stars, 8-2

The local high school girls' basketball team continued their winning streak by subduing the Brainerd All-Stars, 8-2.

Lacking insufficient practice, the Independents were not able to provide the usual dash of the high school team.

Defensive work was the main feature throughout the entire contest. Gladys Reuter like the "Reuter" of old, proved to the audience that being out of the game one year, had not phased her basketball talent. The regular guards of the high school aggregation, Alta Storm and Marian Liners, held the All-Star offense scoreless.

Both quints had a hard time getting organized the first quarter, which closed with a scoreless tie. The high school forged ahead the second quarter, enabling them to lead at the half, 3-0.

Fogelstrom of the All-Stars sunk the only counter for her team while Beggs and Molstad shared the scoring honors for the school.

As is usual of the Brainerd high school team, they began to chalk up a safe lead during the last half that provided them a third victory to their list for the season.

Another game between the two opponents is rumored to be staged in the near future, which should be one of the fastest meets in local history. Summary:

High school—H. Beggs, rf; I. Molstad, lf; G. Alzant, jc; C. Peters, rg; A. Storm, rg; M. Liners, lg.
All-Stars—K. Nolan, rf; E. Fogelstrom, lf; I. Trask, jc; M. Carmichael, rg; C. Reuter, rg; G. Smith, lg.
Subs:

High school—F. Lewis, rg; M. Jackson, lg; D. Kieven, rg; M. Hegstad, lf.

All-Stars—D. Shepherd, rg; I. Hollingsworth, rf.

Scoring:

Field goals—Beggs 1, Molstad 2, Fogelstrom 1. Free throws—Beggs 1, Molstad 1.

"Merrily We Roll Along—"

A few bumps and stumbling blocks are met in every endeavor. There are now many new expositors of this fact included in the student body.

Some admit this fact cheerily, having after a short tussle removed the obstacles; others—every enterprise has its failures. The recent exams have proven to many ambitious students the well known adage that "Persistence Brings Success." Others, less ambitious or persistent, find that they have fallen behind the more industrious and will, for a long semester have to reside with the lower classmen. The other side, the joyous side, is as important, and to some much more so, for they have by steady work picked themselves up and resumed their rolling along—henceforth to be prepared before hand to surmount the obstacles in their path—while others shall continue to stub their toes on the well-worn obstructions in the way to the diplomas and success; and after laborious recoveries resume—"rolling on."

"THE WOOD BOX" TWO ACT PLAY BY MRS. FRANK HANFT TO BE PRESENTED

THE SECOND PROGRAM WILL WITNESS SHAKESPEARE'S "TAMING OF THE SHREW"

The Semper Paratus Club Program Committee of which Margaret Armstrong is chairman and Miss Oerting, the club adviser, presented to the members the plan of work and play for the remainder of the school year.

Inasmuch as the purpose of the club is to give all of the 80 members opportunity to gain experience in platform work of various kinds, the program committee has assigned or will assign everyone in the club to some part in at least one of the public programs to be given. Some club members will act as coaches and will assume all responsibility for the final presentation of those acts or readings, etc.; which they coach. Verne McNamara, the president of the club, Viola McKay, the vice president, Wayne Curtis, and Miss Oerting will supervise and assist in organizing the final productions. The Freshman and Sophomore girls in the club will be responsible for all advertising of programs under the direction of Helen Marie Stadthauer and Shirley Peterson. The club parliamentarian, Sylvia Erickson, will present one phase of parliamentary procedure at each of the Thursday morning meetings. All members who can do so will join in out-door recreation on every Saturday afternoon—tobogganing, skiing, skating, hiking, picnicking, etc. A standing invitation for these get-togethers is given to faculty members.

The first public program will be given Saturday evening, Feb. 19, in the High School gymnasium. The money earned by that will be used to pay for Shakespearean music, books and costumes, etc.; to be used for later programs.

Voices

The day is full of voices—meaningless, insistent. They drone upon the street, chatter at parties, hurl snatches of themselves at you from passing automobiles, rise up and down dramatically from open-air platforms, end with question marks at the office, trail after you on street cars. . . . Your ears, forever open, almost have to hear.

Yet in this same room with you are voices of utmost silence, whose every word concerns you. You control them more surely than you control telephone or radio. Open a page—they talk to you quietly. Close a page—they are through. They are the voices of the advertisements. They talk direct to you. Tell of better roofing for your home, more protective paint for its walls. Shoes your youngsters can't scuffle out easily. Salads, delicious drinks, to gratify you. Reinforced hosiery, cooler underwear, purer soaps. You believe in these voices, for they have to be sincere. Else they would not be in these pages—could not have the nation's belief. You buy the goods they proffer, for you know already what those goods will do. And wide belief has lowered their prices. They are economical

Still Filling Space

By LIL BERTRAM
I'm getting awfully regular lately, am I not? And I promised myself I'd only write now and then. Oh, well!

I imagine they will be changin' seats pretty soon again. I don't know whether I want mine changed or not—I like the one I've got—it's in the back where you don't have to crane your neck to see what's goin' on and I'm quite fraternal with all the kids in that quarter of the room—however a change is always welcome. I'm against movin' if anything, I got a homelike disposition—never did care much about joinin' the navy and seeing the world thru a porthole. I'd join the navy in preference to the army, tho'. I always was for riding as against walking—and then again the navy's uniforms are much classier than the soldier's outfits and more comfortable, too—more room in them.

You know, they's an awful shortage of stuff to write about this week; that is, there's subjects but they're all old gags—report-cards—honor roll etc. They tell me I shouldn't use this word etc. I guess they think I don't know what it means—but, not boastin' or anything, they would be surprised with some of the things I know. I am myself, sometimes. It's wonderful how much a young (boy, girl) can pick up if (he, she) gets into the wrong places at the right times.

As I said in the beginning, I'm here every week when you open the paper and its getting monotonous. Besides I want to surprise you sometime so I guess I'll take a week or two off. I haven't told the editor about this yet but I guess he will be able to grasp my meaning when he reads this. I believe that my work is deprecating—now take this for instance, it just isn't up to standard, that's all. I gotta recuperate.

Yours for sometime,

BERTIE.

Here's some nice music for while I'm away:
"High, High, High Up in the Hills"
"For You and Me"
"Someone to Watch Over Me."

A Feahful Adventuah

(In one act and one scene)

Floyd is found sitting in the assembly. Enter Elmer Erickson—hair disheveled and wet and ghostly pale.

Floyd (with great zest): Oh, theah, Elmer, deah boy, how romantic you appeah. Been playing drop the kerchief again?

(Elmer collapses into a seat and exhaustedly motions for silence.)

Elmer: Floyd, deah thing, I've just had the most thrilling adventure, don't you know, and I hardly recovered from the bally thing.

Floyd: How extrawdinary, old thing, do tell.

Elmer: Well, old fellah, you know I was out promadin' in the hall, when all at once I saw a white marble post with a handle on the side of it. I turned the handle, you know, and all of a sudden I found water spurting into my face.

(Pauses—takes several deep breaths.)

Oh, deah, wheah was I—ah yes—in the water. Well, you know I was feahfully nonplussed naturally one would be, finding one's self in such a predicament—

Floyd: Dreadfully boahsome, I should imagine—eh, wot?

Elmer: Yes—ah—wheah was I—ah yes—well, you know I had self-control and presence of mind enough to let go of the handle, you know—and what do you think happened?

Floyd: Cawn't imagine—do tell.

Elmer: Well, old flappah, the water stopped flowin'.

Floyd: Aw?

Elmer: Reahly!

Curtain.

Miss Tornstrom: You'd think some of you people didn't understand plain English.

John Fisher: Well, I know I don't understand "Plane Geometry."

Miss Lohr

Miss Gladys Lohr, who has been teaching Geometry here for the last four years, resigned last week to be married—there was a general feeling of regret at her leaving, expressed in several instances by social festivities. The Epworth League of the Methodist church, together with her Sunday school class, entertained at a party in the church basement. After a very enjoyable evening, she was presented with a pair of silver candlesticks.

The teachers of the Washington school entertained at a tea last Tuesday, where she was given a silver gravy boat set as a token of their wishes for her future happiness. The whole school extends their good wishes.

SPORTS

Follow the Teams to Crosby

Support your girls' and second team by sending an aggregation of Brainerd boosters to Crosby Friday night.

The girls are lined up for the hardest fight of the season when they meet the Crosby-Ironton sextette on their own floor. The Blue and White promises speed and a battle to the end. Fans, follow them and give them your support.

The second team the same evening take on the second team at Crosby. The local boys have worked hard bucking up against the "blue suits" all season. They would appreciate rooters at the range city.

Round trip tickets may be secured for seventy-five cents from Mr. Gridley or Coach Berestford.

Brainerd 8, Wadena 17

Brainerd again met defeat at the hands of the Wadena aggregation, when they journeyed to that city last Friday evening. It was again a game of many breaks and good teamwork was out of the question, for it was only a matter of very few times that either team showed any light of executing plays to the proper advantage.

The game started out with both quintets battling furiously and the Blue and White eagles were again the first to start the scoring. They, however, continued to do most of the scoring during the first half, which ended 5 to 1 in the locals' favor. During the second half, the local gave way and were unable to add the Wadena five from scoring and the game ended with Wadena on the long end of the count. This game, however, did not seem to have much effect on the Blue and White five, which defeated the fast St. Cloud Cathedral team the following evening.

The line-ups:
Brainerd—Wise, rf; Fitzharris, lf; Guin, c; DeRocher, rg; Lowe, lg.
Wadena—Zozel, rf; Brownsey, lf; Young, c; McBride, rg; Zuelke, lg.
Substitutions:
Brainerd—Orth for Guin; Hautala for Orth; Barnes for DeRocher.
Wadena—Nutting for Brownsey.

Brainerd 16, St. Cloud Cathedral 11

The Blue and White basketball quint redeemed themselves Saturday night by defeating St. Cloud Cathedral, 16-11.

The game was played on even terms until the last quarter when the locals stepped out to obtain their lead and hold it throughout the remaining minutes of play. St. Cloud's team was one of high calibre, but was unable to penetrate the defense of the locals who were playing splendid ball.

As the game opened, St. Cloud got the tip-off and started down the floor, executing good team work but were stopped on the foul line by the local defense which had the do or die spirit. The game then saw-sawed back and forth and Brainerd was the first to start the scoring, with Guin coming through with a field goal. St. Cloud then evened the count and the two teams played on even terms throughout the half. The local five then came back in the second half and played wonderful basketball by showing good teamwork that resulted in placing the Blue and White quint on the long end of the score.

A fairly good crowd witnessed the contest and were well pleased with the brand of ball played that night.

Brainerd plays Motley next Friday and it is hoped that the local fans will turn out in full to boost their team along. May it be remembered that support is half of the victory.

The line-ups:
Brainerd—Orth, rf; Fitzharris, lf; Guin, c; DeRocher, rg; Lowe, lg.
St. Cloud Cathedral—Lohr, rf; Blussingham, lf; Denne, lg.

SEMPER PARATUS CLUB TO PRESENT FIRST PUBLIC PROGRAM ON SATURDAY, FEB. 19

Huckspuing, lf; Blussingham, c; Hallstrum, rg; Denne, lg.
Substitutions:
Brainerd—Wise for Orth, Orth for Fitzharris.
Cathedral—Lully for Blussingham, Kiernay for Denne.

B. H. S. Girls Defeat All-Stars, 8-2
The local high school girls' basketball team continued their winning streak by subduing the Brainerd All-Stars, 8-2.

Lacking insufficient practice, the Independents were not able to provide the usual dash of the high school team.

Defensive work was the main feature throughout the entire contest. Gladys Reuter like the "Reuter" of old, proved to the audience that being out of the game one year, had not phased her basketball talent. The regular guards of the high school aggregation, Alta Storm and Marian Liners, held the All-Star offense scoreless.

Both quintets had a hard time getting organized the first quarter, which closed with a scoreless tie. The high school forged ahead the second quarter, enabling them to lead at the half, 3-0.

Fogelstrom of the All-Stars sunk the only counter for her team while Beggs and Molstad shared the scoring honors for the school.

As is usual of the Brainerd high school team, they began to chalk up a safe lead during the last half that provided them a third victory to their list for the season.

Another game between the two opponents is rumored to be staged in the near future, which should be one of the fastest meets in local history. Summary:

High school—H. Beggs, rf; I. Molstad, lf; G. Alant, jc; C. Peters, rc; A. Storm, rg; M. Liners, lg.
All-Stars—K. Nolan, rf; E. Fogelstrom, lf; I. Trask, jc; M. Carmichael, rc; G. Reuter, rg; G. Smith, lg.

Subs:
High school—F. Lewis, rc; M. Jackson, lf; D. Kieven, rc; M. Hegstad, lg.

All-Stars—D. Shepherd, rc; I. Hollingsworth, lf.

Scoring:
Field goals—Beggs 1, Molstad 2, Fogelstrom 1. Free throws—Beggs 1, Molstad 1.

"Merrily We Roll Along—"

Some admit this fact cheerily, having after a short tussle removed the obstacles; others—every enterprise has its failures. The recent exams have proven to many ambitious students the well known adage that "Persistence Brings Success." Others, less ambitious or persistent, find that they have fallen behind the more industrious and will, for a long semester have to reside with the lower classmen. The other side, the joyous side, is as important, and to some much more so, for they have by steady work picked themselves up and resumed their rolling along—henceforth to be prepared before hand to surmount the obstacles in their path—while others shall continue to stub their toes on the well-worn obstructions in the way to the diplomas and success; and after laborious recoveries resume "rolling on."

VETERAN OUTFIELDER REFUSED

YANKEES

DID NOT WANT TO WARM A BENCH FOR MILLER
HUGGINS

New York, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Tris Speaker, former manager of the Cleveland Indians, will play center field for the Washington Senators this season.

The veteran outfielder, who refused an offer of the New York Yankees because he didn't want to warm a bench, will be used to bolster up the Washington team, which has its eyes upon the pennant.

A long distance call from Clark Griffith, president of the Washington team, caught Tris at his hotel shortly after his conference yesterday with Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, and Tris accepted.

"I had agreed to wait until I heard from Griffith anyway," Tris explained. "He telephoned me an offer and I accepted."

What salary the Washington executive offered, Tris declined to say. "It was sufficient," he explained.

"Besides, it wasn't a bidding proposition. The Yankees were eager to get me, but I accepted the Senators' proposition because it was more suitable," Speaker said.

Speaker thus ended the baseball drama—it was really hardly more than a farce which for a time threatened to end the brilliant career of

CLARK GRIFFITH
RADIATING CONFIDENCE

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With Tris Speaker in his lineup, Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, was radiating confidence today that his team had more than an even break to win the 1927 pennant.

Griffith made terms last night with Speaker over long distance telephone to New York, but he refused to tell what salary he agreed to pay.

"Just say it was plenty high," Griffith said. Speaker is to report for training on March 1. He will play centerfield.

"My acquisition of Speaker gives us a real chance for the pennant," Griffith said. "I feel that with Speaker, our chances are golden. I've always liked Speaker and wanted him on my club. He's worth every cent I agreed to pay."

FOUR LEAGUE CLUBS
WERE AFTER SPEAKER

By HENRY L. FARRELL

United Press Staff Correspondent
New York Feb. 1.—Four American league clubs were in the chase after the contract of Tris Speaker, former manager of the Cleveland Indians and only one club has shown any interest in the contract of Ty Cobb, once the greatest drawing card in baseball.

Before announcing he had agreed to sign with Washington, Speaker, in conference with Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, said he had received offers from the Washington and Philadelphia clubs and another club that he did not mention. Cobb, on the other hand, was said to have heard from only the St. Louis Browns.

The situation caused baseball men to ponder and had the casual fan bewildered.

"I'm sure I can't tell you," Miller Huggins said when asked for an explanation. Asked further if the Yankees would go after Cobb now that Speaker has turned down their offer, Huggins refused to answer.

The natural deduction was that the difference in temperament would make Speaker more adaptable to return to the role of a player under a rival manager and that most of the managers in the league know of Cobb's reputation for being hard to handle.

Cobb, in St. Louis probably would get along better than with any other club as he is a long time friend of Dan Hawley, manager of the Browns, and he probably would prefer to play there.

Huggins was asked if he had not made overtures to Cobb because he felt that they wouldn't get along together or if he feared that Cobb and Babe Ruth would spend more time fighting than in playing baseball and he only smiled.

Speaker told newspapermen that he intended to leave sometime tomorrow for Cleveland and after a few days there he was going home to Texas. "I have been home only two days this winter," he said.

Speaker asked to have it made clear that he had not been bidding one club against another. He said he hadn't told New York what Philadelphia had offered him or hadn't let Washington know what the others were willing to give him.

TWO HARBORS AND RAINBOWS TO MEET AT H. S. TONIGHT

FAST PROFESSIONAL TEAM ARRIVES IN CITY FOR BIG GAME

ALL STAR LINE-UP TO VIE WITH FAST COMBINATION OF LOCALS

The Two Harbors All Stars arrived in the city this afternoon ready for their game tonight with the Rainbows, and from their appearance they will be able to give a good argument with the local squad. The game will start at 8 P. M. All members of the Rainbow squad have recovered from their injuries and ill, and will be in top form for the contest.

The visitors from the North Shore come here with a record of twelve victories and two defeats for the season so far, and are out to gain their thirteenth game at the expense of the locals. Fans will remember that two weeks ago the Two Harbors team defeated the touring Rainbows 37 to 10, holding Engbretson scoreless.

Manager Peterson states that the Brainerd fans will find in the visitors a team of rare ability, practically the same squad as that which won the state high school championship in 1924. Included in their lineup is also a former Hamline star and one real professional in Freeman, a great pivot man who will show his tricks tonight.

The All Stars are backed by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. They have been given the best in basketball equipment, and local fans will feast their eyes on a group of neat looking uniforms, the best that can be had. On the breast of each suit is a "Safety First" emblem, in neat looking style.

The Rainbows have held their own against the best in the state, and during the last four days have won two games—with patched-up line-ups. They will work hard tonight to bring their third consecutive victory.

The line-ups will perhaps be as follows:

Rainbows—Engbretson, rf; Ziebell, lf; Beresford, c; Orth, rg; Welsh, lg.

Two Harbors—W. Mattson, rf; M. Mattson, lf; Freeman, c; Anderson, rg; Stien, lg.

Two Harbors also has Floathe as substitute, while the Rainbows have Ericson, Larson, Fitzsimmons, Nutting and Lawrenz in reserve. These teams both have the speed and range to give fans here one of the finest games seen here this winter.

Two Harbors is coming under heavy expense and it is hoped that a large turn-out of fans will attend and help pay the expense of booking the game.

The curtain raiser will be a snappy battle at 7:30 o'clock, bringing together the Flying Aces Juniors and the Little Tigers, in a game that should provide plenty of thrills. The big game will start at 8 o'clock.

SANITARY MEAT MARKET SOLD

SALE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Jacob Kaupp Former Proprietor Has

City 25 Years

Jacob Kaupp, proprietor of the Sanitary Meat Market, 715 Laurel street, for the last 15 years and in the butcher business in Brainerd for the past 25 years this morning announced the sale of his shop to V. J. Shaw, Minneapolis butcher who will take charge of the shop immediately.

Mr. Kaupp will remain with Mr. Shaw for a while, he stated this morning.

Results of Sanatorium Treatment
It seems that a great many people who have never visited a sanatorium have some very much mistaken ideas about the general results obtained from sanatorium care and treatment. It seems that the far advanced hopeless case that comes to the sanatorium five or ten years too late is the case that is most talked of and the most widely known. We want to give you a few figures showing the result of our work during 1926.

During the year 1926 we discharged 40 cases—26 of whom were able to return to their homes and resume their occupation wholly or partly—5 out of the 40 discharged were unimproved and nine died. Those that died were far advanced cases that came in and died after having remained but a few days, in most cases. Only one of the nine had been in the institution a year or more, five had been in the sanatorium less than a month.

One of the greatest handicaps we encounter in this work is the disregard the average patient has of the necessity of remaining in the institution long enough. It is unreasonable to suppose that any patient could come to the sanatorium and remain a month or less and obtain any results. Tuberculosis is a very insidious disease which is often years undermining a person's health. It is also a very slow disease to show any improvement, particularly after it has reached anything like an advanced or moderately advanced stage.

In averaging up our discharges for 1926—9 out of the 40 cases discharged remained in the institution less than 30 days. Of the 31 who remained in the institution thirty days or more, 80 percent of them were improved or arrested cases when discharged.

D. K. FULLERTON REPORTS APPEARANCE OF ROBIN TODAY

That giddy young thing—spring, who seems to fool even the most intelligent of weather prognosticators, is going to pull a surprise on the populace of Brainerd if the coming of its forerunner, the robin, has not mixed his dates and arrived earlier than expected.

Well, anyway, there was a robin perched on the tree tops on North 9th street this morning singing blithely as if spring was in the offing.

D. K. Fullerton, 502 North 9th street reported the appearance of the red-breast this morning.

Some claimed that the weather man had pulled a mean trick on the messenger of spring while others smiled and started humming. "When the red robin comes bob, bob, bobbins" along."

STATE CONVENTION OF BAPTISTS HERE

Convention Will Bring 300 to 400
Delegates, Laymen and Ministers to City

THREE DAYS IN OCTOBER

Official Board of First Baptist Church Make Plans
for Event

Preparations for the coming of the Minnesota Baptist State convention to Brainerd in October, occupied the attention of the official board of the First Baptist church last evening.

The convention will bring from 300 to 400 delegates, laymen and ministers to the city for three days.
Also many of the great national leaders of the denomination will be in attendance as speakers.

A vote of thanks was particularly expressed to St. Paul's Episcopal church for the kind unsolicited offer of the use of their church during the days of the convention and the promise of the opening of as many of their homes as possible to the entertainment of the delegates. Also it was desired to publicly express thanks to the Minister's Association for their kindly expressions of helpfulness and cooperation. It is recognized that only through cooperation can Brainerd successfully be hosts to this large convention.

George Tracy was named chairman of the Convention Committee. The ladies aid society was requested to work in conjunction with the other societies on the entertainment problem.

Brainerd was selected for the convention through its ideal location and delightful season for the meeting of the delegates.

LINCOLN SCHOOL INDOOR CIRCUS

Parent-Teachers Association to Present Its Annual Entertainment

ACTIVE WORKERS NAMED

Mrs. Roy Hall, General Chairman, Records the Various Attractions

The Parent-Teachers association of the Lincoln school will present its annual entertainment, Saturday, February 5, in the form of an indoor circus. For the past three years indoor carnivals have been given and were immensely successful both as to patronage and financial returns.
The indoor circus this year is given to give the public something new and different and every preparation is being made to cater to the wants of all who attend.

Money derived from the circus will go into the P. T. A. treasury and as in past years will be used for the different needs of the school and teachers. Milk has been purchased for the underweight children, records for victrolas, playground equipment,
set of encyclopedias, flags, pictures,
etc.

All the prerequisites of an indoor circus will be in evidence for the delight of young and old. Mrs. Roy Hall, president of the P. T. A. has appointed the following chairmen for the various committees: Main show,
Miss Pinneo; animal show, George Lucas; confectionery shop, Mrs. Fre-mond Turcotte; fish pond, Mrs. Ahl-gram, assisted by Mrs. Roy Sherlund, Mrs. F. E. Little, Mrs. Sam Tollefson,
Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Nels Erickson,
Mrs. A. Greenwald, Mrs. McGinn,
Mrs. Olson; lunch, Mrs. Ray Paine;
novelty shop and beauty parlor, Mrs.
M. McCullough.

Men will be in charge of the animal show and a big surprise is promised those who attend. The main show will consist of a concert to be rendered by the best of Brainerd's home talent. Another feature will be a rummage sale. Clowns and criers will keep things going during the evening and everyone is assured a right royal time. A very small admission charge will be made.

SANITARY MEAT MARKET SOLD

V. J. Shaw, Minneapolis Butcher,
New Owner Will Take Charge
Immediately

SALE ANNOUNCED TODAY

Jacob Kaupp Former Proprietor Has
Been in Business in
City 25 Years

Jacob Kaupp, proprietor of the Sanitary Meat Market, 715 Laurel street, for the last 15 years and in the butcher business in Brainerd for the past 25 years this morning announced the sale of his shop to V.
J. Shaw, Minneapolis butcher who will take charge of the shop immediately.

Mr. Kaupp will remain with Mr.
Shaw for a while, he stated this morning.

Results of Sanatorium Treatment
It seems that a great many people who have never visited a sanatorium have some very much mistaken ideas about the general results obtained from sanatorium care and treatment.
It seems that the far advanced hopeless case that comes to the sanatorium five or ten years too late is the case that is most talked of and the most widely known. We want to give you a few figures showing the result of our work during 1926.

During the year 1926 we discharged 40 cases—26 of whom were able to return to their homes and resume their occupation wholly or partly—5 out of the 40 discharged were unimproved and nine died. Those that died were far advanced cases that came in and died after having remained but a few days, in most cases.
Only one of the nine had been in the institution a year or more, five had been in the sanatorium less than a month.

One of the greatest handicaps we encounter in this work is the disregard the average patient has of the necessity of remaining in the institution long enough. It is unreasonable to suppose that any patient could come to the sanatorium and remain a month or less and obtain any results. Tuberculosis is a very insidious disease which is often years undermining a person's health.
It is also a very slow disease to show any improvement, particularly after it has reached anything like an advanced or moderately advanced stage.

In averaging up our discharges for 1926—9 out of the 40 cases discharged remained in the institution less than 30 days. Of the 31 who remained in the institution thirty days or more, 80 percent of them were improved or arrested cases
when discharged.

D. K. FULLERTON REPORTS APPEARANCE OF ROBIN TODAY

That giddy young thing—spring, who seems to fool even the most intelligent of weather prognosticators, is going to pull a surprise on the populace of Brainerd if the coming of its forerunner, the robin, has not mixed his dates and arrived earlier than expected.

Well, anyway, there was a robin perched on the tree tops on North 9th street this morning singing blithely
as if spring was in the offing.

D. K. Fullerton, 502 North 9th street reported the appearance of the red-breast this morning.

Some claimed that the weather man had pulled a mean trick on the messenger of spring while others smiled and started humming. "When the red robin, comes bob, bob, bobbin' along."

TO ORGANIZE SCOUT TROOP

New Troop of Southeast Brainerd
Sponsored by Harrison P. T. A.

OSCAR ERICKSON, SCOUTMASTER

Organization Meeting Will Take Place at Harrison School
Wednesday Evening

A new troop of Boy Scouts to be sponsored by the Harrison Parent-Teachers Association will be organized Wednesday evening at the Harrison school.

The troop committee consists of George Falconer, Gus Anderson,
John Holvick, John Kukko, and Swan Johnson. The committee has selected Oscar Erickson as scoutmaster and Otto Heikkinen as assistant scoutmaster.

Scoutmaster Erickson has assured the committee that he is planning on making a winning troop out of the boys. The new southeast troop will be known as Troop No. 4.

The boys in Southeast Brainerd know that Mr. Erickson is an outdoor man and will make the troop hikes interesting. Otto Heikkinen, the assistant scoutmaster will no doubt help the troop organize hockey or basketball teams. Every boy who wants to be a charter member of the troop should be there the first night and get started at the beginning.

day School and Young People's Society

Plans for the ensuing year under the leadership of the new pastor, Rev. M. Pepper, will be discussed and ing turned over to a social hour. A full attendance of the members and friends of the church is expected.

REQUESTS DATA ON DEER SHOT

Game and Fish Commissioner J. F.
Gould Wants to Know Number
Bagged in 1926

TO COMPILE REPORT

Hunters Requested to Make Returns to Game and Fish Department
Immediately

With the commencement of the compilation of data by the Game and Fish Department as to the number of deer killed during the 1926 big game season, J. F. Gould, commissioner of game and fish has requested that hunters make returns immediately of the game killed by them, both under their big game and small game licenses.

J. F. Gould, game and fish commissioner writes in part as follows to Deputy Game Warden A. P. Cardie:

"The Game and Fish Committees of the Senate and House—also many individual members of the Legislature—have requested me to inform them as to the kill of deer during the 1926 big game hunting season, at the earliest possible moment.

"I find that not more than one-third of both the big game and small game hunters have to date filed their reports of game taken by them.

"We are starting to compile the data from the reports now on hand and I sincerely hope that we may be able to complete the data by the middle of next month and can do so if the sportsmen will do their part."

DR. SPEARS TO CONTINUE WITH MINNESOTA

SAYS "NO, THANKS" TO OFFER FROM NORTHWESTERN U.

GOPHER MENTOR IS WELL SATISFIED WHERE HE IS

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Dr. Clarence W. Spears announced today that he will continue as University of Minnesota football coach. Gently but firmly, the answer to Northwestern University's bid for his services to replace Glenn Thistlethwaite was announced by Dr. Spears as being:

"No, thanks." The Gopher mentor said that he was "well satisfied" with Minnesota. No seriousness, he indicated, was attached to his courtesy in consenting to listen to the overtures of Northwestern while he was in Chicago last week. He had to attend the Western Conference meeting at the same time and killed two birds with one trip.

By the same token, Spears hinted, he avoided a blunt "no" at that time and withheld his answer in order not to hurt the Purple athletic staff's feelings.

Dr. Spears returned to Minneapolis Monday after pausing in Rochester for an examination to determine whether his recent operation was a thorough success.

The doctors told him he was in good condition now.

NAVY TRANSPORT HEAVILY LOADED WITH SUPPLIES

Vallajo, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With enough food aboard to feed 1,200 men on a trans-Pacific voyage, the navy transport Chaumont was scheduled to sail today from Mare Island navy yard for San Diego.

The fact that the Chaumont was carrying such a huge amount of supplies led to the belief that she probably would be sent to Guam for possible use in transporting troops to China.

This belief was given added credence when it was learned the supply of food aboard the Chaumont was sufficient for an extended voyage of all the marines now stationed in San Diego, the Chaumont's announced destination. Approximately 1,200 men are now concentrated in the southern California port from other coastal cities.

U. OF M. SOPHOMORE ATHLETE CANCELS OUT OF SCHOOL; TO RETURN IN SPRING

TO GET IN TRAINING AT CAMP LINCOLN; WILL TRY FOR PLACE ON OLYMPIC TEAM

The University of Minnesota Daily in its publication on January 28, carries the following story which is interesting to followers of activity at Camp Lincoln for Boys on Hubert Lake:

"Andy Geer, sophomore football, baseball and track athlete at Minnesota, has cancelled out of school preparatory to starting active training for a place on the Olympic boxing team. Geer plans to return to school for the spring quarter, thus keeping his eligibility clean for the gridiron next fall.

"Within the week, 'Andy' will leave for Camp Lincoln on Lake Hubert, near Brainerd, to get into condition. He will lead an outdoor life in the woods, getting his exercises by chopping wood, cutting timber, and hikes or road work. Camp Lincoln for Boys is well known to local athletes, many of whom have worked there during the summer as leaders.

"The American Athletic Union boxing tournament will be held on February 24, 25, 26 at Gary, Indiana. Geer's weight of 188 pounds will put him in the heavyweight division.

"It is reported that Conrad Cooper, Minnesota's heavyweight champion in 1925, is also planning on entering the Gary meet."

The Brainerd high school basketball team should find no trouble in disposing of the Motley cage quint when they appear here Friday night, as the Brainerd team, after viewing the two in action in previous games, is superior to the visitors, both in offense and defense.

However this will not prevent a good game as the Motley team is known as a team of hard little fighters who will do their best to turn the trick on the locals.

HENRY SULLIVAN SEEKING TO CONQUER CATALINA CHANNEL

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With considerable mystery surrounding the report that Henry Sullivan, noted long-distance nator of Massachusetts, was making a second attempt to conquer the Catalina channel, two boats were sighted early today off Point Firmin.

Sullivan was reported to have left Catalina Island late last night or early today, but his new attempt to swim the body of water, following his failure in the Wrigley sea derby, was veiled in secrecy.

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Henry Sullivan, noted long-distance swimmer of Massachusetts, landed at the Pine avenue wharf here at 8:15 a. m. today, and announced he had successfully conquered the Catalina channel, according to the city attendant at the wharf.

Sullivan said he had completed the 23-mile stretch, over which William Wrigley, Jr., staged his marathon two weeks ago, and in which Sullivan failed, in 22 hours and 45 minutes.

According to the attendant, Sullivan, after crawling up the pier, was placed in a taxicab by friends and hurried away.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When ever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use for only 75 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

San Francisco, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Mrs. Marian Noel Wright, wife of Frank Lloyd Wright, nationally known architect, was found living in San Francisco today after having disappeared from the scene of her husband's alleged affair with Olga Milanoff, Montenegrin dancer, last December.

Ostensibly Mrs. Wright came west to recuperate from the strain of the scandal in which she, her husband, and the dancer were involved. It was revealed, however, that she sought to have Wright arrested on a charge of desertion.

Her application for a warrant was refused on the ground that no crime was committed in California.

Mrs. Wright declared that she would never consent to a divorce from her husband. She said that he had been delinquent on alimony payments and that she had been forced to live from her own income.

Honolulu, Feb. 1.—(UP)—A United States destroyer today was engaged in a race against death.

Miss Wilhelmina Tenny, San Diego, daughter of E. D. Tenny, president of the Matson Navigation line, was aboard the destroyer Ludlow steaming toward Honolulu to the bedside of her mother, ill at her summer home at Mokuleia.

Miss Tenny began her journey on the liner Manoa but when several days at sea she learned her mother had suddenly taken a turn for the worse and fearing the Manoa would not arrive in time, she asked the United States navy for help.

The destroyer Ludlow was dispatched, met the Manoa, took on Miss Tenny and started back to Honolulu.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. —Adv.

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to streng-

DR. SPEARS TO CONTINUE WITH MINNESOTA

SAYS "NO, THANKS" TO OFFER
FROM NORTHWEST-ERN U.

GOPHER MENTOR IS WELL SAT-ISFIED WHERE HE IS

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Dr. Clarence W. Spears announced today that he will continue as University of Minnesota football coach. Gently but firmly, the answer to Northwestern University's bid for his services to replace Glenn Thistlethwaite was announced by Dr. Spears as being:

"No, thanks."

The Gopher mentor said that he was "well satisfied" with Minnesota.

No seriousness, he indicated, was attached to his courtesy in consenting to listen to the overtures of Northwestern while he was in Chicago last week. He had to attend the Western Conference meeting at the same time and killed two birds with one trip.

By the same token, Spears hinted, he avoided a blunt "no" at that time and withheld his answer in order not to hurt the Purple athletic staff's feelings.

Dr. Spears returned to Minneapolis Monday after pausing in Rochester for an examination to determine whether his recent operation was a thorough success.

The doctors told him he was in good condition now.

NAVY TRANSPORT HEAVILY LOADED WITH SUPPLIES

Vallaja, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With enough food aboard to feed 1,200 men on a trans-Pacific voyage, the navy transport Chaumont was scheduled to sail today from Mare Island navy yard for San Diego.

The fact that the Chaumont was carrying such a huge amount of supplies led to the belief that she probably would be sent to Guam for possible use in transporting troops to China.

This belief was given added credence when it was learned the supply of food aboard the Chaumont was sufficient for an extended voyage of all the marines now stationed in San Diego, the Chaumont's announced destination. Approximately 1,200 men are now concentrated in the southern California port from other coastal cities.

TO GET IN TRAINING AT CAMP
LINCOLN; WILL TRY FOR PLACE ON OLYMPIC TEAM

The University of Minnesota Daily in its publication on January 25, carries the following story which is interesting to followers of activity at Camp Lincoln for Boys on Hubert Lake:

"Andy Geer, sophomore football, baseball and track athlete at Minnesota, has cancelled out of school preparatory to starting active training for a place on the Olympic boxing team. Geer plans to return to school for the spring quarter, thus keeping his eligibility clean for the gridiron next fall.

"Within the week, 'Andy' will leave for Camp Lincoln on Lake Hubert, near Brainerd, to get into condition. He will lead an outdoor life in the woods, getting his exercises by chopping wood, cutting timber, and hikes or road work. Camp Lincoln for Boys is well known to local athletes, many of whom have worked there during the summer as leaders.

"The American Athletic Union boxing tournament will be held on February 24, 25, 26 at Gary, Indiana. Geer's weight of 188 pounds will put him in the heavyweight division.

The Brainerd high school basketball team should find no trouble in disposing of the Motley cage quint when they appear here Friday night, as the Brainerd team, after viewing the two in action in previous games, is superior to the visitors, both in offense and defense.

However this will not prevent a good game as the Motley team is known as a team of hard little fighters who will do their best to turn the trick on the locals.

HENRY SULLIVAN SEEKING TO CONQUER CATALINA CHANNEL

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With considerable mystery surrounding the report that Henry Sullivan, noted long-distance swimmer of Massachusetts, was making a second attempt to conquer the Catalina channel, two boats were sighted early today off Point Firmin.

Sullivan was reported to have left Catalina Island late last night or early today, but his new attempt to swim the body of water, following his failure in the Wrigley sea derby, was veiled in secrecy.

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Henry Sullivan, noted long-distance swimmer of Massachusetts, landed at the Pine avenue wharf here at 8:15 a. m. today, and announced he had successfully conquered the Catalina channel, according to the city attendant at the wharf.

Sullivan said he had completed the 23-mile stretch, over which William Wrigley, Jr., staged his marathon two weeks ago, and in which Sullivan failed, in 22 hours and 45 minutes.

According to the attendant, Sullivan, after crawling up the pier, was placed in a taxicab by friends and hurried away.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use for only 75 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

MRS. M. N. WRIGHT FOUND LIVING IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Mrs. Marian Noel Wright, wife of Frank Lloyd Wright, nationally known architect, was found living in San Francisco today after having disappeared from the scene of her husband's alleged affair with Olga Milanoff, Montenegrin dancer, last December.

Obviously Mrs. Wright came west to recuperate from the strain of the scandal in which she, her husband, and the dancer were involved. It was revealed, however, that she sought to have Wright arrested on a charge of desertion.

Her application for a warrant was refused on the ground that no crime was committed in California.

Mrs. Wright declared that she would never consent to a divorce from her husband. She said that he had been delinquent on alimony payments and that she had been forced to live from her own income.

U. S. DESTROYER ENGAGES IN RACE AGAINST DEATH

Honolulu, Feb. 1.—(UP)—A United States destroyer today was engaged in a race against death.

Miss Wilhelmina Tenny, San Diego, daughter of E. D. Tenny, president of the Matson Navigation line, was aboard the destroyer Ludlow steaming toward Honolulu to the bedside of her mother, ill at her summer home at Mokuia.

Miss Tenny began her journey on the liner Manoa but when several days at sea she learned her mother had suddenly taken a turn for the worse and fearing the Manoa would not arrive in time, she asked the United States navy for help.

The destroyer Ludlow was dispatched, met the Manoa, took on Miss Tenny and started back to Honolulu.
